this game sucks a big aist of 10 buck graphics suck cant use anythng but mouse n keyboard cant even use a xbox controller wish i didnt buy it. The game has the elevators inverted and i cant change it WHA HAPPENE.. Im glad i didnt pay full price. not what i expected.. This Game IS Terrible, When You Crash You Have To Restart, My Laptop Is A MSI And its Soooooo Lagy.. hi this game is fun I don't know why more people don't play it I guess that's there loss.. hi this game is fun I don't know why more people don't play it I guess that's there loss.. This game is hardly a simulator. I can forgive a flying game for having loose flying mechanics but this one is pretty much as arcadey as they come. In first person none of the instruments work, they are all just a static image, the game does not support joystick or controller. Keyboard and mouse controls are simple enough but the stock plane handles like a stunt plane, climbs to 29,000 feet, does not exceed 210mph even in a dive. The in game menu refers to the controls as accelerate and "breaks," mind you not even brakes. There are some pretty graphics, but the runways are all short, the islands hardly habitable. I have not seen this game dip low enough in price to even be worth it on sale.. Feel a bit scammed on this one. No content whatsoever. No Career feel, lame plane upgrades, bugs and more. Stay away from this unless you like arcade feel and simple missions of pick up, fly to and deliver. Maybe worth 3$ because their are aps on my phone better then this.. Game is really trivial and boring. The flight simulation is child-like simplistic. The controls are rather annoying; yoke "self-centres" so to keep a steady descent, you have to continually move the mouse forward, i.e. keeping moving it forward, not just keep in a fixed position. Once you learn to fly, missions are to fly from one place to another and report in. Nothing of any interest. There is nothing risky about the missions, that I can see. Each one seems identical to the others. No complexity, nothing of interest. Even if free, the half hour of time to see how little there is to the game is a half hour of your life you won't get back.. This game is bad.
